University of the People is a tuition-free, non-profit institution. The University does not charge students to take classes, does not charge for any reading and other study materials, and does not charge for annual enrollment. As a non-profit academic institution dedicated to opening access to higher education, UoPeople has succeeded in cutting down almost the entire cost of higher education.

Our aim, as it has always been, is to see to it that no student is denied the right to access higher education. We are tuition-free, meaning students are not charged for their educational instruction, course materials or annual enrollment. Additionally, we seek to ensure that no qualified student is denied the ability to study with UoPeople for financial reasons.

In order to remain sustainable, UoPeople charges a modest Examination Processing Fee of $100 for each end-of-course Examination. You have applied for a UoPeople General Scholarship which, if awarded, may cover up to 21 (twenty-one) Examination Processing Fees.

To be awarded this scholarship, you must agree to the following terms and conditions:

1. The money that is allocated toward your scholarship is solely for the purpose of paying your Examination Processing Fees and enabling your studies at UoPeople. It is not for your personal gain or usage. It is the property of UoPeople, held in your name and allocated by UoPeople toward the payment of your Examination Processing Fees for the time that you remain enrolled at UoPeople.

2. In order to continue to receive your scholarship you must maintain a level of Satisfactory Academic Progress. Your scholarship will be at risk if you are placed on Academic Warning and may be withdrawn if you are placed on Probation. If you return to Good Academic Standing, please be aware that this scholarship shall not again be made available to you. Information regarding the requirements of Satisfactory Academic Progress can be found in the University Catalog.

3. Should you cease your studies, fail to commence your studies, be dismissed for academic or disciplinary reasons from UoPeople or fail to maintain a level of Satisfactory Academic Progress, you shall forfeit your scholarship. Any scholarship funds remaining shall be used by the University toward providing another student with access to higher education.

4. Should you decide to return to the University at a later time, and require assistance in meeting your Examination Processing Fees, you will need to re-apply for financial aid. UoPeople cannot guarantee that financial aid will be available at the time of your return.

5. If you are required to repeat courses, you will incur an additional Examination Processing Fee for each additional course taken and may not have sufficient funds remaining in your scholarship for completion of your degree.
6. Should you wish to continue your studies at the University following the expiration of this scholarship and require assistance in meeting your Examination Processing Fees, you will need to re-apply for financial aid. UoPeople cannot guarantee that financial aid will be available at that time.

7. You must abide by all policies and procedures of the University as outlined in the University Catalog. This includes, but is not limited to, strict adherence to the University's General Code of Conduct and the Academic Code of Conduct.

8. The University reserves the right to take disciplinary actions, including cancellation of this scholarship and termination of your enrollment if, at any time after the award of the scholarship, it has reasonable grounds to suspect that:

   a. you have been awarded this scholarship on the basis of false statements, misrepresentation or fraudulent actions; or

   b. you have encouraged or induced another scholarship applicant to make false statements, misrepresentations or fraudulent actions in his or her scholarship application, regardless of whether the scholarship is awarded.

9. By accepting this scholarship, you agree to these terms and conditions and to all other University policies and procedures, which continue to apply. This includes (but is not limited to) the policies and procedures outlined in the University Catalog and Enrollment Agreement.

10. These terms and conditions shall be governed by and construed in accordance with the laws of the State of California. Any unresolved dispute which is related to these terms and conditions and has not been amicably resolved shall be brought before a court of competent jurisdiction in the State of California, which shall have sole jurisdiction in this regard.

11. Provisions regarding the awarding of this scholarship are subject to change.

12. If you have any questions about your scholarship, please contact financial.aid@uopeople.edu.
