Why Study at UoPeople

QUALITY

UoPeople gained accreditation in 2014 by the DEAC which attests to the university's academic excellence and rigorous standards. University leadership includes esteemed academics from Columbia, Harvard, Stanford, Yale and more. UoPeople has partnerships with UC Berkeley, NYU and Yale.

TUITION-FREE

Scholarships available

UoPeople does not charge students to take classes, for any reading or study materials, or for annual enrollment. It is the university's mission to provide affordable, tuition-free education for everybody. UoPeople charges nominal fees in order to remain sustainable. For students who cannot afford those fees, we have a variety of scholarships available.

PERSONAL ATTENTION

Students learn with the support of instructors and their fellow peers from around the world. Students benefit from small online classrooms, allowing for a supportive community. Each UoPeople student is assigned a personal Program Advisor from the moment they begin their studies, who will take them hand-in-hand until graduation.

FLEXIBILITY

Study in your own time, at your own pace, with any internet connection, from anywhere in the world!

EMPLOYABILITY

UoPeople prepares students for the job market by offering opportunities for internships, mentorships with cooperations such as with Microsoft, HP, Y&R and a full career center providing relevant workshops and career support.

Giuseppe Z.

Computer Science graduate,
United Kingdom

"UoPeople gave me the opportunity to study, learn and create a better future for myself when all the other doors seemed to be closed. My degree has already helped me in getting a great job at IBM. I am sure that it will also be useful in my future career advancement."

---

Adonise A.

Business Administration student,
Haiti

"I am the eldest of three children. My father left my mother, and since then we have lived a difficult life. I wasn't able to go to school. University of the People is a tuition-free, academic institution devoted to providing universal access to quality education. It offers programs to qualified individuals. My degree from UoPeople will help me a lot in the future."
